

Men

- EWC Men have been the Olympic Champs 10 times
- The longest streak of EWC Men Olympic Champs is 4 times — 1976, 1980, 1984, 1988
- EWC Men have been on the podium 18 times
- EWC has never swept the Men's podium

Though EWC held the Gold & Silver in 1984 and 1988, Gold & Bronze in 1976 and 1980 and 2002, Silver & Bronze in 1992

- Not saying it's causation (but not NOT saying it), but 3 Men's Olympic Champions performed in EWC the fall before they won

John Curry in 1975 (Olympics '76), Robin Cousins in 1979 (Olympics '80), Ilia Kulik in 1997 (Olympics '98)

- EWC has had the Reigning Men Champion perform once
Brian Boitano in 1988 (Olympics '88)

Ladies

- EWC Women have been the Olympic Champs 8 times
- The longest streak of EWC Ladies Olympic Champs is 3 consecutive times — 1992, 1994, 1998
- EWC Ladies have been on the podium 21 times
- EWC has swept the Ladies podium (through Bronze) once: 2002
- EWC has had the Reigning Ladies Champion perform twice
Oksana Baiul in 1997 (Olympics '94), Yuna Kim in 2011 (Olympics '10)

Pairs

- EWCers have been Pairs Olympic Champs 6 times
- Not counting the Protopopov's pre-EWC consecutive Olympic Champ-ing in 1964 & 1968, the longest streak of EWC Pairs Olympic Champs was consecutive 2002 & 2006
- EWCers have been on the Pairs podium 13 times
- EWC has never swept the Pairs podium, though EWC held Gold & Bronze in 1988 & 1994, and Silver & Bronze in 1992
- Again, not saying it's causation, but T. Totmianina/M. Marinin performed in EWC the fall before they became Pairs Olympic Champs in '06
- EWC has never had the Reigning Pairs Champions perform

Dance

- EWCers have been Dance Olympic Champs twice
- EWCers have been on the Dance podium 11 times
- EWC has never swept the Dance podium, though EWC held both the Gold & Silver in 2006, and Silver & Bronze in 1994
- EWC has never had the Reigning Dance Champions perform

Overall

- EWCers have been on the Olympics podium 67 times
 - If EWC were a country, we would have the highest medal count by far
- In terms of total medals, next would be the US with 49 [OUTDATED]
Out of 271 medals ever, EWC has held 24.7% of those medals. That's about a quarter of the medals!
And if we just look at the 159 medals from Olympics after EWC's inception, 59 have been held by EWCers, which is 37.1%
- In terms of Gold Medals, EWC also comes out ahead with 27, with the US next with 15 [OUTDATED]
- On average, 3.31 medals out of 12 in a year go to EWCers. That's around 25% of the medals!
 - There has been an EWCer on the podium in each discipline 5 times
1984, 1992, 1994, 1998, 2002
 - The most number of EWCers on the podium in any one year has been 7 (out of 12) three times:

1992, 1994, 2002

- EWCers has never swept the Gold medals. The most Gold medals in one year has been 3 (out of 4) twice:

1994 (Missing Dance) & 2002 (Again missing Dance)

- There has been an EWCer on the podium every year since EWC's inception
